Predictions of Violent Eruptions Already Verified by Grumblings of the Earth-Pent Giants from Vesuvius to Colima, While a Hill on Long Island Exudes an Avalanche of Mud 3 3

one-tenth of the disaster predicted by the seers and astrologers for the year 1904 come to pass, Earth will come a veritable holocaust, an

"The year will witness great atmospheric phenomena, terrible storms at sea, violent volcanic eruptions and unheard of extremes of heat and cold," says Joubert, the weather and meteorological expert of the Eiffel Tower Observation Station in Paris.

"There will be earthquakes in the Philippines, Chile and Constantinople," says "Sister Marie," the French clair-

A mud volcano has suddenly sprung into existence in Douglaston, L. I., on top of a hill overlooking Little Neck Bay. A river of mud is flowing out of it toward the bay, and the house of J. Segult was threatened by the flood. Already the people of Vesuvius are commerce, lay at the foot of a volcano which had come to be considered as extinct. extinct.

How long before the Christian era Vesuvius had been at rest is not known, but from the landing of the first Greek easily removed. It was not until the colony in Italy the volcano had given no signs of activity. Pliny, the Pompeilan scientist, did not include it in his list lent atmospheric and internal disturb-

In those day Vesuvius presented a In a night and a day the cities of very different appearance than it does Pompeli and Herculaneum were oblitthe top a flat plain of some extent with for several days. slight depression in the center.

Forests and vineyards occupied its a prominent place in the superstitions of the inhabitants.

ances.

to-day. The slopes were regular and erated. The shower of ashes continued From that time on Vesuvius assumed

After untold years in which Vesuvius It assumed the character previously had resigned its position as chief vent of given to Lake Avernus, and was regarded as the mouth of hell.

A Prayer for

Quiet on the Mountain

The majority, however, regained cours age and went back to their homes, but never to enjoy immunity from fear.

The shrines of Tartarus, and Proserpina, god and goddesses of the earth and under world, were constantly crowded. Their doors were never closed. Black sheep were sacrificed to appease any desires the god might have for life. Flower seeds and offerings of grain were made to win the good-will of the goddess, but for sixteen years

thereafter earthquakes were of peri-

The obstruction that impeded the Cardinal Damiano, in a letter to Pope Nicholas II. in the year 1960, told of a priest who was on the mountain and heard a female voice emanating from the crater. Upon going nearer, he was horrified to recognize it as that of his own mother. Subsequently he learned that his mother had died at the very time he had heard her voice.

Since that day to this, Vesuvius has been sufficiently active to keep its importance prominently before the people who live in its vicinity

Vesuvius the Dreadful.

"The lady of darkness," they call Vesuvius. To the Neapolitan child it is the abode of the bugaboos who get bad children. To the older people, naturally superstitious, it remains the entrance

Woe is the lot of one who would throw a stone into the crater, as the wrath of Vulcan would be his forevermore.

The wise men of the Talemo and Be- J nevento make their predictions of weather and crops by the magnitude of the smoke column by day and the red glow by night.

Vesuvius remains to-day the central point in the world's most beautiful scene. The architectural beauty by which man once supplanted nature has splendor. All things are temporary.

It will come again, these fatalists

Vesuvius Breathes a Warning Note to Italy Yeeling uneasy, as conclusive signs of action are apparent.

From far-off Madagascar come advices of continuous erruptions on Great Comoro Island, situated in Mozambique active and the inhabitants of the country surrounding the Colima volcano in Mexico, are fleeing from the district.

Microscopic jets of steam are excaping from the crater of Mount Ranier. With the Mont Pelee disaster still fresh in memory, these manifestations became, to say the least, very interesting.

Volcano Study.

and Greeks, were the giants Typhon, Briareus, Euceladus and others.

Simple of the Romans lowing A. D. 685 it was absolutely silent sess several volcances.

In slumbering giant suddenly gave warn-who live on the powder cask tell you. Briareus, Euceladus and others.

Simple of the Romans lowing A. D. 685 it was absolutely silent sess several volcances.

The Indians tell stories of eruptions warse than ever. But for all that this Briareus, Euceladus and others.

ever one of them was buried a volcan Within a month the Pacific Coast has been visited by earthquake shocks. The Santa Maria Volcano, in Guatemala is active and the inhabitants of the mountains and the mountains and the mountains. the mountains, and then the volcanoes Vulcanology, the study of volcanoes, affords little but theories. No laws have been discovered whereby it can be told whether a volcano is extinct or not. Pelee had been quiet for fifty years. La Soufriere had been silent longer.

Previous to the destruction of Pompeil Vesuvius had been cold and covered with vegetation for hundreds of years. The greatest enemies of the gods, according to the religion of the Romans lowing A. D. 685 it was absolutely silent.

With vegetation for nundreds of years. Then again for three hundred years following A. D. 685 it was absolutely silent. They have a sort of life lowing A. D. 685 it was absolutely silent. They have a sort of life lowing A. D. 685 it was absolutely silent. They have a sort of life lowing A. D. 685 it was absolutely silent.

Some of them had a hundred arms; This uncertainty possesses peculiar in-others breathed out fire. They were terest for the inhabitants of Oregon and Precedent is a very poor guide in voltainty in it all.

of Mounts Hood and Baker, sixty or seventy years ago.

can be determined until it is fully ended, and even then there is no little uncerthe most beautiful bay in all the world, and even then there is no little uncerthe most beautiful bay in all the world, and even then there is no little uncerthe most beautiful bay in all the world, and even then there is no little uncerthe most beautiful bay in all the world, and even then there is no little uncerthe most beautiful bay in all the world, and even then there is no little uncerthe most beautiful bay in all the world, and even then there is no little uncerthe most beautiful bay in all the world, and even then there is no little uncerthe most beautiful bay in all the world.

Neapolitans Praying that the Volcano may not Awaken the Campania, and the center of their around its base. The inhabitants fied wish.

I was sitting in my store one evening, had said so much, when she suddenly thinking over what I should do, when a exclaimed, very airlly, "Oh, yes; I see this woman, and she had told him, some hats. Finally she picked one of the city the next Sunday, and first thing I did was to look for another that I could not think. One thing I did was to look for another that I could not think. One thing I did was to look for another room, which I found at 276 West Fourth and I worked all day, getting my things are I told him that he must give me my slight blonde woman came in and tried on some hats. Finally she picked one "You do?" I said; "I'm sure I haven't even look at me. on some hats. Finally she picked one and told me that if I would make one or two alterations in it she would take it. She gave me her address and told me that there was no hope for me to let her know when it was ready.

The pointed my finger at her and said:

"You do?" I said; "I'm sure I haven't even look at me.

On Sunday following the last trouble, he told me that there was no hope for me.

"It is you who have ruined my life."

She jumped as if I was about to strike her and threw a book at me. Then she her and threw a book at me. The she her and threw a book at me. The she her and threw a book at me. The she her and threw a book at me. The she her and threw a book at me. The she her and threw a book at me. The she her and threw a book at me. The she her and threw a book at m

I stopped at the address given and asked it has caused considerable trouble. His for this woman in order to tell her that old girl said that she was the making the hat was ready. She said she would of my fellow; that he had no money the hat was ready. She said she would of my fellow; that he had no money and I hurried back, anxious to see him deserted me for good.

began making preparations. On Monday In o use for me and went away.

I came to this city, but the thought that I didn't see him for two I had really given him up haunted me there, and I agreed, and after that we I had really given him up haunted me there, and I agreed, and after that we I had really given him up haunted me there, and I agreed, and after that we I had really given him up haunted me there, and I agreed, and after that we I had really given him up haunted me there, and I agreed, and after that we I had really given him up haunted me there, and I agreed, and after that we I had really given him up haunted me there, and I agreed, and after that we I had really given him up haunted me there, and I agreed, and after that we I had really given him up haunted me there, and I agreed, and after that we I had really given him up haunted me there, and I agreed, and after that we I had really given him up haunted me there, and I agreed, and after that we I had really given him up haunted me there, and I agreed, and after that we I had really given him up haunted me there.

While I was doing this she suddenly "Do you say that he is a married

I did not reply. I had not said much "Yes," she said, moving away, "he to anyone but my husband. While I was pausing she asked again, and addis. And he is no one else than your Hackensack would be glad to have you went out.

proved a failure I have decided to go feel anthing at all. I was numb, and back to the city."

me to let her know when it was ready. Well, I happen to know, all the same," she returned, in a jeering tone. When she went out I wondered where I had seen her before.

The second evening after this, as I record evening after this event to the storage company up in Har-record evening after this which he had been placed in storage in his name.

The second evening after this, as I record evening after this, as I record evening after this which he had been placed in storage in his name.

The second evening after this, as I record evening after this which he had been placed in storage in his name.

The second evening after this, as I record evening after this which he had been placed in storage in his name.

The second evening after this which he had been are thing the had been placed in storage in his name.

The second evening after this which he had threw a book at me. Then she add threw a book at me. Then she add the me.

The second evening after this which he had the had been placed in storage in his name.

The second evening after this which he had the had been placed in storage in his name.

The second evening after this which he had the had been placed in storage in his name.

The second even was coming from my work in the city gether now for over a year, and I know she did not say much to me, but "I said that I was glad she had when she examined the hat she said she placed him in a moneyed position bedid not believe she could afford to pay fore I met him, for we certainly have some very sporty times. Some days we "Very well," I said, "let me show you spend as much as ten and fifteen dollars having a good time."

man?" I asked, rising.

"It seems to me the people of husband." And she LAUGHED and husband. But as my efforts have seemed to pass from me, and I did not seem endless.

before he went. When I came into my store I hurried back, and there, aiding wanted to make friends in his way. him in his work, was the woman who He was not sorry, but he knew that I had caused me to suffer so much.

could not stand it any more, and he time of day; told me again that he had been placed in storage in his name.

went back to my new room in New get an order from him. I went back.

loved him and that he would be wel- dence of the presence of this woman I did not know what to say, for I come. I told him I was going to re- and her influence over him. Almost the Open-Air Cure in the Edge of the Arctic.

THE most surprising open air cure pond of glassy ice. It is expected that the custom laws between Sweden and countered this woman whom I knew to in the world has just been established in Lapland by the village in Lapland, because it is the an English mile.

The first time to the most important Norway. A Swedish mile is longer than be always near.

The first time to the most important norway. A Swedish mile is longer than be always near. Swedish Government. It is patterned terminal of the military railroad that upon the Massachusetts open air cure Sweden and Norway have built up Sweden will be developed into a strong-

Continued From Page Four.

I lem, but they refused, telling me I must

I do not care to go any further in my Fourth street from which George Lupo's story. I can only say that to the very dead body was carried with three bullet last I pleaded with him, and he would wounds not hear me. On Monday evening and again on Tuesday, while walking with TO the jury The Woman told how her or rather keeping beside him, we en-

The first time was at Madison Square I thought over my difficulties and six have built up sweden and Norway have built up sweden an

One of the cruelest things he did in winter clothing, and again he laughed me so, and he LAUGHED.

OR Morris Lupo, the Man who To all my appeals he simply re- Laughed, here the story ends.
Until she faced the jury which was to decide her guilt or innocence, the I think his mind was unbalanced, or lips of Della Lupo were sealed as to what further occurred in the room on > husband, in a sudden access of anger and despair, turned his revolver upon himself. She showed how she had vainly tried to stay his hand, but to no avail.

THE jury believed that Della Lupo, overwrought by years of mental strain, with every nerve tense to the breaking point, conscious that the husband. But as my efforts have seemed to pass from me, and I did not seemed to pass from me, and I did not seemed to pass from me, and I did not seemed to pass from me, and I did not seem endless.

Wassijauve is a little Lapland village on the shores of Lake Torne, which is a base that would defy the world—for they are that I was numb. At 9 o'clock my husband came home in for the greater part of the year a frozen.

Seeme do pass from me, and I did not seemed to say or derivation to seem to say or